Rob Devine '11 knows what it takes to build structures and also safely demolish them!

Being able to develop innovative solutions for the challenging problems in the built world, such as designing with novel construction materials and repairing existing historic landmarks is what motivates Rob Devine as an Associate at Wiss, Janney, Elstner (WJE)

Associates. Practicing as a structural engineering in Austin, Texas, Rob uses his skills to address design and/or construction issues, conduct field investigations of existing structures, and develop building and infrastructure repair designs. His global firm consists of engineers, architects, and material scientists who have worked on thousands of projects from bridges, cathedrals, and museums to stadiums, lighthouses, and airports.

“I was drawn to civil/structural engineering as I was inspired by the tangible aspects of the field and being able to see your work implemented on a visible scale.”

Rob didn't always know he wanted to enter this field. He excelled at Chemistry while at RBC and thought that he may be interested in Chemical Engineering. During his time as an undergraduate at the University of Notre Dame, Rob developed a passion for Civil Engineering through his course work and research opportunities. While civil engineering is a significantly developed field, as it has been around for thousands of years, Rob is most intrigued by pushing the boundaries and developing innovative solutions to complex problems.

One of Rob's first projects with WJE was to helping with the explosive demolition of a direct connector ramp between IH 35 and US183 in Austin. "My role was to complete analyses that demonstrated that the construction activities completed prior to setting off the explosion charges would not compromise the integrity of the bridge spans. Ultimately, the entire project team was successful and 4 bridge spans, all exceeding 120' in length were safely demolished." See the planned explosive demolition. Welcome to the Casey Alumni Community Class of 2022!

The Class of 2022 celebrated graduation at Monmouth University on May 31st with Bishop O'Connell and Monsignor Joseph Rosie as co-celebrants. The 191 students persevered, showing their strength and unity through Covid, and can be proud of the legacy they have left at RBC as they venture on, dream big, and continue on their educational and spiritual journey.

"At RBC, we come from so many different places and backgrounds, but despite any individual differences between us, we are all united as one Casey family. The support and love flowing throughout the local community and to Caseys who are across the globe is truly inspiring."
- Jennifer Portela, Valedictorian

This remarkable class earned over $33M in college scholarship offers and will attend over 100 colleges throughout the US, including: Villanova University, Boston College, Bucknell University, Babson College, the US Naval Academy, Syracuse University, University of Florida, Clemson University, Purdue University, and many more! The class Valedictorian is Jennifer Portela and the Salutatorian is Seton Smith.

God bless you and congratulations to all! Remember, once a Casey, always a Casey, so please keep in touch!

The Athletic Hall of Fame Celebration

A wonderful celebration was held on campus at the Eck Center on June 10th and 11th celebrating the newest inductees into the Athletic Hall of Fame. We honored 10 individual athletes, 2 teams, 3 coaches and a special award went to Sister JoanMarie McDonnell and Sister Regina Callahan.

"It was a great night to be a Casey and recognize an impressive group of Alumni for amazing accomplishments in sports and life! We are so appreciative to everyone who supported the event which provides financial assistance to students in need."

- Joe Montano, Athletic Director

The weekend kicked-off with a cocktail reception in Tradition Hall on Friday evening where the honorees, their families and friends, and alumni came together for a perfect celebration that continued on Saturday. The gym was transformed into an elegant dining space for the dinner and induction ceremony where over 350 guests enjoyed celebrating these distinguished Caseys.
